Space In the Mind of a Machine

Refik Anadol is a Turkish artist, explore, researcher, and a creative mind. Those are the words i decided to describe him with after watching his Merging Minds: Exploring Collective Forms of Intelligence - Space in the mind of the machine. Refik Speaks on his experiments with working with a dataset collected from the brain and the collaborations he did through out this project. It was really interesting to see how he was speaking about it and talk about his creative journey. I also enjoyed the visuals he used in his video, they were making understanding what he was talking about way easier and comprehensible. One of my favourite topics that he spoke about is Machine Hallucinations. I think they are extremely interesting and it is what i liked the most about mixing AI with arts.
